

El Cajon Collaborative
Newcomer Support Coordination
March 4th, 2010 Meeting Notes

- I. Introductions - The meeting began with introductions. Kara Vickery is on maternity leave, so Lea led the meeting. Tim Slade of Catholic Charities identified an additional agenda item related to training volunteers for cultural orientation support.

- II. IRC Microenterprise and Career Development Program Introduction – Joel Chrisco and Thuba Nguyen of the IRC were present to share information about two programs for refugees unique to the International Rescue Committee (IRC).
 - Joel discussed the Microenterprise service, which provides business development assistance, training and small start-up loans for qualified refugees. They can help build credit and this program is particularly for those with no credit/collateral and or no experience with banks in the United States. The program has been around for about 10 years. He gave numerous examples of types of businesses that a refugee could start through their program.
 - Thuba shared about the IRC’s newest service “career development” which can help refugees who are already employed find better jobs and get additional training. The program can also provide a small loan of up to $5,000 for career-related expenses and education. She also shared information on an upcoming training in El Cajon on 3/19/10 on “How to Get and Engineer License in California”. To see the flier:
